Ethnic Congregations Project Newsletter ACSQ

Return to Matthew Flinders

Rachel and I were invited back to Matthew Flinders Anglican College on the 22 November to look over and discuss the showcase by year six students of their project work on "The Refugee Journey." It was wonderful to see the understanding they displayed in many art forms of what it means to be a refugee. The photos do not do justice to the work of teachers and students.

Service at Raceview

Bishop Cam and I attended a service of the Anglican Congregation which meets in the Lutheran Church at Raceview at the end of October. The large congregation greatly enjoyed being visited and made us feel very welcome. Bishop Cam gave a traditional Dinka blessing to all new born babies. He also took an active part in the music team as shown in the photo.

Meeting with the Archbishop

Archbishop Philip made time in his busy schedule to have a meeting with me to reflect on my work for the diocese over 2021 and listen to some of my plans for 2022. I was so grateful to have the chance to meet the archbishop and share a time of prayer together.

Ethnic Confirmation

On Sunday 28 November at St Anne's Highfields, Bishop Cam confirmed a number of young people from the ethnic congregation of St James Parish.

A great celebration and wonderful fellowship flowed through the whole event. What a positive look to the future to see so many young people undertaking to commit to having an active part in the church.

PMC Team Lunch

Our PMC team met for lunch for the final time this year on 9 December. I am so grateful to everyone on this team for the help and support they are giving me in my work. That might sound like a normal thing to say in any work situation, but I want to say more - this team makes me feel like I am part of a close and supportive family who are always ready to help out, no matter what the problem is for me.
